INSECT SUPPRESSION

Managing destructive insects is one of the most important services we can offer you and your plants. Small pests can create big problems. Sucking insects can cause disease, decline, and ultimately the death of your trees and shrubs. We use host specific techniques, including Plant Health Care (PHC) concepts, to target insects and limit the volume of products we apply. Thousands of homeowners also benefit from our tick and mosquito applications.

HAZARD TREE IDENTIFICATION

A healthy-looking tree may not always be a safe tree. Environmental factors are often the foundation of decline, causing a tree to be potentially hazardous to people and objects in close proximity. The defects are usually not visible to the untrained eye. Our Certified Tree Experts have the knowledge and expertise to evaluate the structural integrity of trees. With our Resistograph we can examine the trunk for hollow sections. With our AirSpade, we can make careful and accurate diagnoses of root health issues.

RICH-ROOTS® LIQUID FEEDING

Trees will look greener and fuller, as well as develop stronger root systems when RICH-ROOTS fertilizer is applied every two years. Tamke uses a patented formula fertilizer with special bio-stimulants such as extracts of peat humus, cold water kelp, and essential vitamins specifically designed to help trees withstand environmental stress. RICH-ROOTS fertilizer is pressure injected into the soil around the tree so the root system can effectively absorb it.

SAFETY AND ENHANCEMENT PRUNING

Pruning improves a tree's aesthetics, health and when done properly, it also promotes canopy growth for the following growing season. In addition, professional pruning by Tamke's team of Certified Arborists reduces the risk of falling hazards from dead and decaying limbs.
